PREMIER KING DECIDES TO MEET PARLIAMENT

Ottawa.—It is officially announced that Premier King will meet parliament.

The House of Commons will be called at the earliest possible date. Premier King's statement reads: "After careful consideration of the constitutional precedents and their bearing upon the situation which has arisen as a result of the general election, the cabinet decided unanimously that it is their constitutional duty to meet parliament at the earliest possible moment, regard being had for the legal requirements with respect to the time necessary for the return of the writs and the official passing of members who have been elected."

The latest official returns having made it apparent that as a result of the general election a majority of 29, one of the participating political parties will, of itself, have a clear majority in the House of Commons when parliament assembles. It is the duty of the government to meet parliament at the earliest possible date.

In the interval until parliament assembles, it is the intention of the government to refrain from any statements beyond those which are essential for the proper carrying on of the public business.

In the present situation, there are three possible courses of procedure, each of which has been carefully considered by the cabinet:

- (1) That His Excellency be asked to grant an immediate dissolution of parliament.
- (2) That His Excellency be asked to call upon the leader of the largest party to form a government.
- (3) That His Excellency be asked to summon parliament at the earliest possible date for the purpose mentioned.

"With respect to an immediate dissolution, it was felt that such action on the part of the country to occasion the transfer and expense of another general election until at least parliament had been affected by the results of giving expression to their views."

Says Mining And Agriculture Linked

Deputy Minister of Mines Predicts Mineral Development in Canada

Winnipeg.—"Taking a long-sighted view and having regard to the ever-increasing mineral development with consequent exhaustion in time of the minerals of other countries, it seems to me that nothing can stop Canada playing a prominent part in the future mineral production of the world," said Charles Cammell, L.L.B., F.R.S.E., federal deputy minister of mines.

Mr. Cammell was the principal speaker at the seventh annual western meeting of the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy.

Another point stressed by the deputy minister was that the development of the mining industry would inevitably lead to the thorough agricultural development of the country.

Mr. Cammell reviewed the mineral trade of Canada, and declared the future would see the United States and the world's mineral deposits as the last great source of the world. The world's ever-increasing need of minerals to meet the demands of the gradual exhaustion of Old World sources of supply are factors driving Canada to meet the demand for Canada's untapped mineral deposits. Dr. Cammell declared.

Not Building To Churchill

Says C.P.R. Has No Intention of Building Line to Hudson Bay

There was no intention of building a line to Fort Churchill on the Hudson Bay," declared D. Coleman, vice-president of the Canadian Pacific Railway here, when advised of a report that the C.P.R. planned the line to be a branch through The Pas and the lake.

A local paper carried the report from its Ottawa correspondent and it said the "ultimate destination of the line would be Fort Churchill."

"There was," said Mr. Coleman, "a rumor made, a proposal for a line from Albert to Herb Lake line, but construction is not contemplated at the present time." Herb Lake is a small town of Northern Manitoba, near The Pas.

Canada's Prestige Abroad Increasing

Great Improvement Noted By President of Labor Congress

Ottawa.—"Canada's prestige is not only being maintained but it is being improved," both in League of Nations circles and in the International Labor Office, Canada, in connection with the League," said Tom Moore, president of the Trans-Atlantic Labor Congress, on his return from a hurried trip to Geneva to attend the quarterly meeting of the governing body of the International Labor Office.

Apart from considerable activity in housing and railroad work, there does not seem to be any relief in the general unemployment situation in Britain, said the Labor leader.

Mr. Moore said he found an interest among Canadians abroad in the prospects of the general election here. His comment on Canadian labor, or lack of it, in British newspapers, however, was that one might almost have been in a foreign country so far as the labor situation was concerned. He saw very little unemployment and conveyed little information.

FREE LEGAL AID IS A NECESSITY FOR THE POOR

Montreal.—Difficulties which confront the poor when in need of legal redress were dealt with in an address delivered by G. H. Corbett, secretary of the Society for the Protection of Women and Children, before the Montreal conference on social work.

Mr. Corbett took the stand that under existing conditions the poor could not get adequate justice before the courts, the reason being court fees and costs, and the fact that the poor could not pay the fees of the court and lawyers' fees.

To protect the poor and to save the courts from oppression, free legal aid was a necessity, held Mr. Corbett. The lawyers' fee was a fundamental difficulty, he said, and countless poor people being unable to pay these fees, were denied justice.

IN MEMORIAM

OSTRANDER—In loving memory of our dear George who passed away November 18, 1923.

Fond memory often wanders, as twilight shadows fall,
Back to the days of happiness, of days beyond recall.
And a vision comes before us, of one so dear, so sweet,
Whose little lips are silenced,
Whose eyes are closed in sleep.

A Friendly Bank

HE was a farmer of sound character and ability. So when he asked for a loan to further develop his farm it was readily granted.

With the loan he bought more stock, machinery and seed. His farm prospered and his profits swelled. After selling his crop he paid back the loan and had a handsome surplus.

This surplus he wisely deposited in the Bank of Toronto. Wiser still, he sought the expert investment counsel of his Bank of Toronto manager.

That was years ago. He is now retired, comfortable and prosperous.

But he still comes in for advice on banking and investment matters. For he regards the Bank of Toronto as a good friend—a friend that gives service and that is unflinching in its welcome. A friend that has earned the trust and cordial good-will of thousands of farmers like himself.
